Draft Restaurant is positioned just off the beach in San Diego's historic Belmont Park. The polished concrete stained floor is a key feature to the restaurant. The applicator chose SlipShield 1000 due to stain resistance, slip resistance and abrasion resistance. Spilled drinks and food usually cause critical staining problems for polished concrete floors, but SlipShield's unique easily cleaned polymer resin resists staining. SlipShield is also slip resistant, even when wet. SlipShield's durable resin holds up well to foot traffic including when sand is tracked into the restaurant on shoes.
